The Doctor’s Corner:

One of the most frequently asked questions that I am asked is “When am I getting my braces off?” followed by “How long do I have to wear braces?” I try to give the most accurate answer that I can, but sometimes teeth just grow in very slowly. I know this is frustrating for you as patients, but it is also frustrating to me. I want everyone’s treatment to progress smoothly, and I love taking your braces off and seeing your reaction to your new beautiful smile.

To try and speed up some of these tardy canines and second molars, I recently purchased a soft tissue dental laser, completed training, and earned certification as an Associate Fellow with the World Clinical Laser Institute. The benefits of the soft tissue laser include fast and precise removal of tissue, a sterile laser tip that uses light energy instead of a scalpel, and quicker less painful post-operative healing.

We have been uncovering teeth just under the gum tissue since November with excellent results. The laser can be used with a very strong topical anesthetic, or if needed a local injection can be given. The laser can also be used to remove excessive overgrowth of gum tissue for better oral health and appearance and to reduce ulcer pain.

If I think that you are a good candidate for laser surgery to speed up your treatment and the day you get your braces off, I’ll let you know so we can answer your questions and get you scheduled.

One month after surgery.

We now offer free WiFi for our patients and their families!

How I Lost My Retainer, by Alex Waters

I can't believe it happened to me. I am the most responsible person I know. Well, at least that is what my 4th grade teacher says. Now that I lost my retainer I might not have that reputation anymore. So let me explain how something like this can happen to me.

The morning before I went to school I was finishing up my homework and I forgot to take out my retainer before I went to school. I decided that I could wear it all day. Only when I was sitting in my seat in Social Studies my mouth started hurting. I took it out and put it in a small zip lock bag and then into my pocket. A little while later my class went to recess. It was a really nice day so I took off my pants because I had shorts on underneath my sweatpants. I left my retainer there in my sweatpants. After recess the class went to 3rd period math. I took my pants with me and at that time they still had my retainer in them.

When math was over we went back to homeroom and we had to clean up the classroom. Then after we finished cleaning up the room everybody who was a bus rider had to line up in the hallway. When they called my grade, I got on the bus and found my assigned seat. Since I am first off the bus I always make sure I have everything. So when I got off the bus I checked my pants to make sure I had my retainer but when I did it wasn't there. I ran into the house to call my mom and dad to tell them I lost my retainer at school. I now know why Dr. Wilmot told me not to bring it to school. The next day I went to lost and found and to the office but no one had turned it in.

That is the story of the case of the lost retainer. My parents asked me what I learned from this happening to me. I said that I learned that I have to make sure that I am very responsible about taking my retainer out and leaving it at home. I also know that without my retainer my teeth will change. I really need my retainer and now I know how important it is.
